Lesotho	The UN-EU partnership supports communities to take care of vulnerable children, such as children that have been orphaned because of HIV/AIDS. In Lesotho, the Lesotho Child Grants Programme ensures that people like grandmother Mampho Tumane, who is the sole caregiver for her seven grandchildren, can afford to send children to school. Read more: http://un4.me/PDvDcK Photo © UNICEF, Leonie Marinovich, Lesotho, 2011
Somalia	In 2011, the Horn of Africa was hit by one of the worst food crises in the last 60 years. In addition to conflicts, drought led many to leave and seek another life in Kenya, Yemen and Ethiopia. The UN-EU partnership supports refugees. For example, in the Dadaab refugee camp in Kenya (the biggest in the world with over 460,000 inhabitants) we provided shelter, education, water and sanitation, vocational training and registration to tens of thousands of new Somali refugees. Read more: http://un4.me/PXoW7y © UNHCR, Siegfried Modola, Somalia, 2011
Honduras	In Honduras, the UN and the EU are working together to support small corn producers. “This initiative has changed our lives. Before no one gave us a loan - and now they seek us and offer to work with us. Now we have a big grain-collection centre to store the grains, and it does not matter if it rains because we have a dryer machine” says David Gonzalez, president of the Hombres Nuevos Association in Honduras, an association of small corn producers. Read more: http://un4.me/T8ytl © WFP, Roberto Martinez, Honduras, 2010
OPT	With the support of the UN-EU partnership, Palestine refugees in the West Bank, Gaza, Lebanon, Syria and Jordan have access to health care through 138 primary health care facilities, operated by the UN. In 2011, over 10 million patient visits were made to these clinics, providing prenatal care, child and adult health services, dental services and diabetes and hypertension care. Read more: http://un4.me/PsClmh

Tunisia	The UN-EU partnership supports countries to conduct free and fair elections. The partnership also works to increase gender equality in democratic processes. In Tunisia, 4.1 million people casted their votes during the Constituent Assembly elections. Sumayya Arnouni, university student and one of over 5,500 women candidates in the Tunisian National Constituent Assembly elections, was one of them. Read more: http://un4.me/RCjXFE © UNDP, Noeman ALSayyad, Tunisia, 2011
